Rams Home Schedule Given, Coliseum Opener with Giants

The Los Angeles Rams will open their 1959 National League season against the Eastern Division champion New York Giants on September 26th, according to the season schedule released today by Ram manager Pete Rozelle.

The game will be played on Saturday evening, marking the first night opener in the club's history. In explaining the move, Rozelle said, "For the last four seasons, the Coliseum temperature has been in the high eighties on opening day. We feel that Ram fans would prefer a night game while the weather is still that warm."

Another schedule adjustment occurs in the season finale against the Colts. The game has been scheduled for Saturday afternoon, December were Rhonda Headly from Ohio, Janet Lee from Oak Street School, and Alice Ringey from Troop 2080.

Regulars who welcomed new Brownies were Janet Garrod, Teri Hollerup, Carol Hood, Carmen Weymouth and Karen Scheele, who was color guard flag bearer.

Troop 207 leaders are Mmes. R. T. Hood and H. L. Thompson.

12th, rather than on Sunday in order that it can be carried on a national television network.

Ram fans are in for an additional TV treat this season. The Rams "out-of-division" road game will be played in Philadelphia, marking the first appearance of former Ram star quarterback Norman Van Brocklin against his old teammates in a league game. All away games will be televised.

In other games, the Rams play each of the other western division teams twice, on a home-and-home basis.

The opener against the Giants will present the strong eastern titlists in their first Los Angeles league-game appearance since 1953. The many Giant stars will be headlined by USC's Frank Gifford, former NFL MVP award winner and recipient of the MVP award in the 1959 Pro Bowl game.

The home league game schedule follows: Sept. 26—Giants . . . 6:00 p.m. Oct. 25—Lions . . . 1:35 p.m. Nov. 1—Bears . . . 1:35 p.m. Nov. 8—49ers . . . 1:35 p.m. Dec. 6—Packers . . . 1:35 p.m. Dec. 2—Colts . . . 1:35 p.m.
